davidjenkins Hi to my friends (if you rent a billboard, a truck, and a plane you're officially my friends. Sorry you're stuck with me).

This is just to say that we are all in pleasant shock (writers, cast, producers, executives) by this outpouring of love and support. Personally I think any network would do well to harness this passionate fanbase, but that's way above my pay grade. @netflix @amazonstudios @appletv we're all ready and standing by to make a third season and beyond if it interests you.

And if this ends up truly being the end, please know how much we appreciate this magnificent send off. I will serve this community for the rest of my career. You are truly the kindest and most magical group of fans imaginable. It goes beyond dedication. We've written our names on one another in permanent ink.

David Jenkins messaged us FRIENDS and gave us a new heading to steer the ship for the crew. Truly an amazing and sweet message, and helping give @renewasacrew a good place to start on new networks.

So based on Chaos Dad's tweet, what the folks over at @renewasacrew have recommended is we focus our efforts on Netflix, AmazonStudios, and Apple TV. We'll be polite menacing but also doing some more specific wooing this time so please see below for more information.

For @AppleTV this may be the best option for submitting feedback/requesting OFMD online! I think if we select "Apple TV+" and drop a note or 7 about how much we'd love to see the show on their platform, it'll get noticed!

= Amazon Prime: Thank you @mermaid-stede for this write up: =

- 1) if you have an Amazon account, go to My Stuff > Settings > Help & Feedback > Provide Feedback
- 2) If you don't, write here
- 3) might as well try their customer service 888 280-4331, using the same strategy from above (though you might need an Amazon account)
- 4) and here's an email! complaints@amazon.co.uk

Things to remember:

- Only Message 1 of the 3 networks at once. We are wooing them, they want to be enticed, not included in a crowd. If you are reaching out to one, make sure to reach out to all three (just separately)

- Be Polite, this is a bit of a different strategy from max, we WANT these people to pick us up, we're not grumpy at them.
- Yes you can use season 3 and beyond, use the same terminology David Jenkins did.

Great job everyone! Your efforts made a difference! Thanks for the update @lamentus!

Something else to mention for our UK and International Friends that are reaching out via social networks or email/phone:

Jac's Cozy Sanctuary for Pirat... · 45m ...

Please please mention that you are international and in a territory covered by one of the three streamers @AppleTV @PrimeVideo @netflix if it is applicable to you! That really matters. They DO track this type of demographic context. It makes us more lucrative!

So Dad's message kind of blew everything else out of the water today, there were some sightings of various crew on the web but most of them were reactions to David's reel so I figured it probably wasn't worth adding today. Thank you as usual to the @renewasacrew team, and @TheCozyPirate for all their steering and insight and helping make these pivots possible each day!

Side note: I saw a lot of really great stuff today-- people focused more on action with the renewal and starting to discuss fun things more and more, less dealing with trolls. I hope that means you all are getting some rest and avoiding some of the crazy shit going on.

Seriously, you're doing amazing. David sees it, the cast sees it, the crew sees it, we all see it. You should all feel super proud of yourself for all the hard work you're doing, whether it's just enjoying the show, being active in the renewal efforts, or just being you.

Please continue to make art, and fics, and goofy memes, and silly videos, and everything. Your creativity is so inspiring and fun and it keeps us all sane! (Also please share them with me I love them.)
