Well as you can imagine, the David Jenkins IG is the big news of today. The clowning forecast has gone up significantly as you can imagine. Dad posted one of the late-blooming SaveOFMD banners in NY and attached Elton John - Candle In The Wind to the post. This song has some very specific significance to our fandom.

Now ADD to that... David Jenkins ALSO added this picture of Matthew Maher standing in front of a saveOFMD flyer found out on the street.

NOW OF COURSE, we are all clowning, but I think as usual Chaos Dad is trying to give us info without giving us info since the fandom pays so much attention to every little detail.

okay this is going to be some category five clownery LMAO so stay with me here. and yes yes whatever whatever ~~delulu~~ but i'm choosing to be silly and conspiracy theory-y as opposed to getting sad so if that's your style then STAY WITH ME HERE HSDJKLS-candle in the wind. the remastered version. same song/version he used when talking to nathan about lucius being "dead."

turned out lucius wasn't dead. he had died a premature "death" right when he was hitting his prime, but then ended up being alive and well sometime later.

but y'all.

he wasn't just alive.

he had been picked up by another group. he had bounced from place to place, only to be picked up and kept safe by the red flag fleet. and then was able to reunite with his loved ones and live out his life once again.

...LIKE???

So yeah, as always take the clowning how you will, but i'll be honest, this looks like great news to me. It really does. CLOWN ON MY FRIENDS.

Since doing cute stuff just doesn't stop in the Darby household, tonight I wanted to make a special shout out to Rosie Carnahan Darby, Rhys' Wife who has been active the last couple days. First and foremost, she knit a little blanket and hat for Samba's baby!

Second apparently she's restocked the Awesomeness Comedy website with more Buttons McGinty books and Comedy Special DVD's in case you're interested.

Oh and by the way, Samba loves the blanket:

Tonight Vico was out performing with Them Fatale Drag Kings at their last night at their home bar Redline! Just some shots from their IG stories, feel free to check out more.

== Max Trolling ==

Gentle reminder luv, if you're going to IG, or Twitter to troll Max posts, let's try to remember not to post OFMD/Negative comments on any posts that are celebrating underrepresented groups. We want to support those groups. Please note however, if you'd done it previously and didn't know, don't beat yourself up! We all make mistakes, just please try to keep it in mind going forward! (If you can delete your previous posts, great, if not, again not the end of the world).

== Coyote Vs Acme Cont'd / Articles ==

Why Deleting and Destroying Finished Movies Like Coyote vs Acme Should Be a Crime

This article is from yesterday but this blurb was pretty damn specific so I wanted to make sure if you missed it you got to see some of the reasons why Max did cancel OFMD.

"Some of the company's tactics post-merger were garden-variety ruthless, like eliminating 87 series from its streaming platform Max, so that they won't have to pay union-mandated residuals to the talent that created already-existing programs or pony up funds to produce more seasons of existing ones (such as “Our Flag Means Death,” one of the company’s most popular and critically acclaimed comedies –canceled after just two seasons).”

== We Need To Be A LightHouse! ==

Have YOU heard of this awesome new Monkey Island Inspired Point and Click Adventure Game by @blueberreads and @eldawee? They've been working on it for months and it's FINALLLLLLLY HEEEEERE!

These folks are so incredibly talented! Please go check it out here! <https://dawee.itch.io/lighthouse> If you're using a MAC OS you'll most likely need to download an executable at the bottom of the main page.

Just FYI! If it prompts you with the "you downloaded this from the internet" error just click OK.

I already started playing with it and I'm in love.

I pushed Ed and he asked if I wanna do something weird xD Okay no more spoilers, GO CHECK IT OUT!

== AdoptOurCrew Choose Your Own Adventure Game! ==

In honor of the s2 watch party with Q! tomorrow, @adoptourcrew did a really adorable choose your own adventure game on twitter today! They did polls and let the majority pick which direction they wanted the story to go!

Adopt Our Crew | #AdoptOurCrew @adoptourcrew · 10h

We're playing Choose Your Own Adventure!

Every 30 mins, we'll post prose followed by a poll with two choices. The winning poll choice determines how the story will go! The story & polls will take place in the thread below, starting in 30 minutes!

#SaturdaySillies #AdoptOurCrew

Since it was a lot of pictures I made a separate post so you can see the whole story:

== Love Notes ==

Alrighty lovelies. It's been another busy day. Lots of clowning, lots of hope, lots of emotional roller coasters. I hope you had a good time and generally it was more positive than negative. I have a lot I want to say, but my brain is still pretty foggy. So I'll make this short.

Sometimes when things go well, our brain gets excited and then they overcompensate when we calm down. It starts to think a lot more negatively because it had so much extra dopamine for a time. When that happens, little things can be really devastating. I just want you to remember that we all make mistakes and YOU, you beautiful imperfect being are not your mistakes. They hurt, and we learn from them, but they don't define us. Try not to listen to your brain if it's telling you otherwise. You are so very wonderful.

Anyway, I hope that makes sense.

Here's a picture I found today I thought really applied to all you wonderful people. Thank you to all the folks who reached out to me and checked in and sent me love when you knew I was struggling (there are too many to list and I don't know if you want to be tagged so please just know how much

I appreciate you). I love you all so much, and I'm so lucky to how found people who make me feel like it's ok to be me.
