== Gypsy Taylor / Big Gay Energy Pod ==

"We imagined that Blackbeard, once he had taken over the Revenge, had set all of Stede's clothes on fire...but the thinking was that maybe he kept one little thing, some little memory of Stede. The robe in Season 1 was so beloved and I knew we had this scene in bed with them having breakfast. What if the piece he's kept is just another robe that we haven't seen of Stede's?

...And I think Taika kept that robe."

Gypsy Taylor
Big Gay Energy Podcast

@AdoptOurCrew

"Ned Low was a really wonderful costume. We made a pure 18th century cut for Bronson Pinchot based on Paganini, the violinist. Before we sewed the whole thing, we painted the fabric silver and chrome so that it had that metal-y feel. Things like his little buttons were these beautiful metal coils like the end of a violin. I gave him silver cowboy spurs which weren't even invented in the 18th century but it just felt right."

Gypsy Taylor
Big Gay Energy Podcast

@AdoptOurCrew

"Music always inspires me whenever I go into any show. As a designer, I will always go to music first. Our show was very 18th century but David Jenkins said to me, 'You know, think of it like these characters are just walking down the streets of New York in the 80s.' Straight up I started a playlist of my own - heavy on Blondie and Heart and all of these great artists of the time."

The Cursed Suit

"He had to look very handsome in it which is not hard with Rhys...and he just had to own it. And the minute he put it on...he danced around the room. We make everything first out of calico to make sure it fits before you cut into the beautiful fabric and make the final costume. Even in the calico, he was spinning around the room and started doing the tail flick and his shoulders went back and his bum got a bit tighter."

TECHNICALLY IMPRESSIVE COSTUMES

"Things like Zheng's army seem so simple but we made every single outfit for her entire crew. They were these beautiful hand-dyed linen tops and pants. And the pants had this incredible cut that my tailor invented. They were simple but so beautiful. And we had to make about 300 of them."

THE RED SHIRT

"Going into this show, David Jenkins said to me, 'A lot of our story lines are a little bit Loony Toons. It's a little bit Bugs Bunny.' We're going to say it's cursed but then that shirt is so cute so maybe he just keeps it because he looked so hot in it."

Gypsy Taylor
Big Gay Energy Podcast

“The maître d’ scarf that [Stede] has - that was just a bit of the couch lining from the ship just ripped off and it still had a bit of the tassel.”

@AdoptOurCrew

The Most Difficult Costumes

“The English army was really difficult because they were all period correct. We had some uniforms from Season 1 but not enough. That was like 300 or 400 costumes. The colors were navy, cream, and gold and we couldn’t find enough fabric around the world. To piece that together was huge and a mammoth effort of my team but when we saw it all come together on screen, it was epic and iconic.”

Gypsy Taylor
Big Gay Energy Podcast

@AdoptOurCrew

“Budgets on films are never as much as you need. I’ve worked on really small horror films up to huge James Cameron Avatar-like budgets and you find where you [fit] in that scale and you make it work. A lot of the time it’s not about the materials, it’s more about what goes into labor and craftsmanship.”

"During the TMZ watch party, depending on where you watch, you *will* get desynced! I don't know if TVNZ kept the ad break bumpers, but Ch4 has one missing (TMNZ has four ad breaks compared to TMUK's three, so they cut to fit), and YT has them cut altogether!"
