| Our lovely pirate queen has sent us some words of wisdom and love notes <3

thekingprincess  4 h

There is no speeding up of nature's cycles. The emergence of a blossom differs from a ripening fruit. To our human perception, in a time outside time, our etheric cyclical blueprints are a veiled cosmic mystery. The time it takes to birth the new you, the new project, the new world, the new consciousness will vary for each of us. The joy of it all lies in our bemused, peaceful witnessing of the sequence unfolding through the awesome magic of creation. Through the turmoil, the plot twists, the darkness, the clues, we swim with grace and hope through the metaphysical waters of imminent rebirth, and when we arrive at that novel elevation we say, ah! How beautiful was all this too.

Wherever you are right now, know you are right on time. You are exactly where you need to be. The greatest transmogrification of your being is well underway, and when that gestation is complete, you will begin again, ever expanding, consciousness without end. It will all be better than you could possibly imagine. Hold faith and love in the constancy of your becoming, as I am holding it for you too. ✨∞❤

= Lindsey Cantrell ==

Lindsey has been inducted into the Our Flag Means Daddy crew! Thank you @ourflagmeansdaddy for sending some love her way!

When I started work in New Zealand, our on-set Art Director probably didn't remember my name at first. He knew he liked me, and he knew I was from the states (no accent), so he asked where I was originally from and subsequently called me over with "hey Chicago!" during the entire job. It felt rad to get a nickname & also to always be reminded how far I had come.

#chicago

It's so perfect I could well up right here.

Thank you @heyheygailyrenee & team 🍷

Quick shout out—
I made it into the

== Love Notes ==

"Hold faith and love in the constancy of your becoming, as I am holding it for you too"

- Ruibo Qian

So I really loved this quote from our pirate queen today. Seriously, every single day you are "Becoming" you. You are moving forward, you are making progress no matter how big or how small. She believes, I believe, you should believe too lovelies. You are gonna get where you want to go in the time it takes, there is no set timetable.

Please read her love note again. You are wonderful <3
