Hey crew, sorry for my mess up in the Rhys section of the last recap. Works been a bit overwhelming, Zoey (my cat) had a stroke, amongst other life things so I'm a bit distracted at the moment. I'm going to do my best to double check things again before posting (I think I get a little excited sometimes trying to catch up and then make mistakes). Thank you to all the kind folks who reached out and let me know about it! I appreciate being able to fix the mistakes!

Meanwhile, Governor Prince Ricky prepares his Christmas address to a wealthy audience. He reviews his remarks and wants to make more of a point of eradicating piracy globally. "It really was quite easy. Even China's "greatest pirate" turned out to be no more than an easy mark.

Rhys is back in LA! He left a long message for the Paid Substack subscribers -- here's a couple paragraphs on how he and the rest of the family are fairing. If you'd like to read the full note, it is on his paid substack.

January 1st - 13th

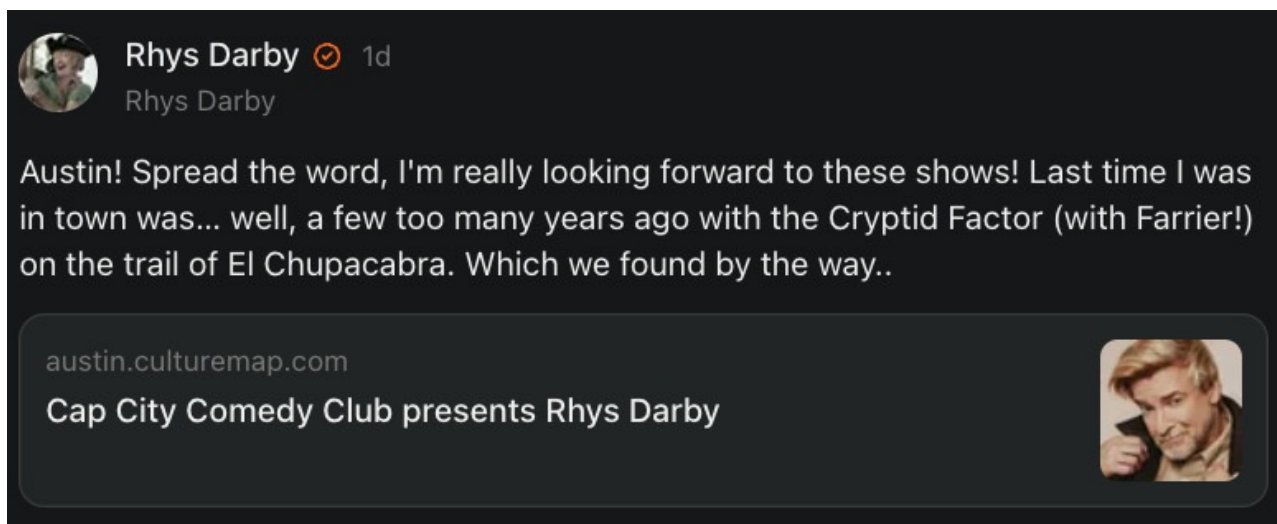

Happy New Year? Not really if you live in LA. I mean, I was in New Zealand until the 10th and tbh all was dandy but just before we were due to fly home the devastating wildfires took hold. Some folks back home thought we were mad to return but of course we had to get back for the pets first and foremost. Our housesitter had everything under control with instructions on what to put in the getaway car in case of an urgent evac.

Thankfully for us that didn't occur (yet, as I'm writing this whilst touching wood) but we did take in a family straight away once we arrived home. Some friends had their evacuation orders and so we opened our door to them and their keepsakes. Then we've been glued to the news and the fire app ever since.

Below the name, "Rhys Darby" is written in a smaller font. The main text of the post reads: "Austin! Spread the word, I'm really looking forward to these shows! Last time I was in town was... well, a few too many years ago with the Cryptid Factor (with Farrier!) on the trail of El Chupacabra. Which we found by the way..". Below the text is a promotional banner for "austin.culturemap.com" which says "Cap City Comedy Club presents Rhys Darby". On the right side of the banner is a small square image of Rhys Darby with blonde hair, wearing a dark jacket and holding a phone to his ear.

~Probably Izzy Hands

Some say Valentine's Day is a commercial holiday preying upon people in and out of love. Well, maybe. But IZZY hands AKA Con O'Neill, star of stage and screen including HBO/Max's The Penguin, Chernobyl, and Our Flag Means Death, is here to help make this Valentine's Day one to remember...

With poems, songs, filth and smut, this first-rate first mate knows how to serenade, seduce, and sizzle with the best of them!

EVENT LOCATION: ONLINE

Izzy will be bringing his wisdom about love, courtship, and not being a useless f*cking f*cker when it comes to Valentine's Day and relationships!

Note: Meet & Greets may sell out. More may be added without notice as they become available.

It won't be business as usual right away.
People are dealing with shock, anxiety, fear, trauma, mourning loss, processing lives being uprooted, trying to show up to assist and doing what they can to keep themselves and their loved ones healthy.

So please be patient, compassionate and

So please be patient, compassionate and understanding. Don't expect a quick reply to that email or text. Don't rush others to move on and move forward. To get back to it. To show up as if nothing happened. That will come at its own pace. There are many roads to recovery, and none are the same length. May love and peace reign, healing and ease come to those in need.

This is probably my favourite bit. When I finished stitching Jim, it was the first time I thought OK, this is going to be OK. But I also have a big soft spot for the first appearance of Lucius (in teeny tiny form) - actually all of the Lucius's, he was a joy to stitch #OFMD

== Love Notes ==

Hey there lovelies. Wow. This has been a hell of a year so far, huh? It's only the 15th of January, and yet it feels like it's somehow in June or July. Please remember to take some time to yourself today, whatever time it is now.

I think we all could use a break, whether it be from work, or stress, or bad news. This is just a little reminder that our brains like to retrain themselves when things continue to happen. They see bad things, and so they start expecting bad things to help us cope.

If you have a moment, be sure to break up that cycle for your brain. Doesn't matter what it is, it could be very small -- buy yourself that fancy coffee or treat, just take a moment to step outside and just breathe in the air for a few minutes where it's calm, or ask a friend for a hug. Hell, go check your folder of fanart or rhys or taika or whomever pictures and just bask in the glory of it all for like 1 whole minute. Just do something small that makes you happy.

Try to do that a couple times a day, or even once a day. Your brain will see that good things can happen, and recognize that not everything is awful, and the more you do those little things, the more your brain will trend back towards hope and things going the right way too.

I know this quote is going back around the last couple days, and I think it's really important:

FRODO: What are we holding on to, Sam?

SAM: That there's some good in this world, Mr. Frodo. And it's worth fighting for. Just a gentle reminder, you are the good in the world. Don't forget that. Sending love Crew.
