

Mini Hiatus / OFMD Craft Fair

02/26/2025 2:30 pm EST

Hey luvv, I'm sorry once again that I'm so very behind. I am very stressed with work, I'm working some late nights because of everything going on in the country and what I do for my job, and it's taking a lot out of me. My kids been sick, I've been sick again, and while all of that sucks-- some good news, my son turned 6! But it means I've been doing mom stuff and planning parties, etc so that's taking up a lot of my time too.

Honestly though, most of all, I'm exhausted. I've been going to bed earlier even though I've wanted to work on recaps because I am just not making it through the day otherwise. I'm very sorry, I wish it wasn't like that, but it's what I need to do right now so I may be on a mini-hiatus again. I'm saving pictures and info best I can throughout the day, just haven't had the time to compile it.

Everyone is always so kind and tells me not to worry when I make these posts and I can't tell you how grateful I am at your patience and understanding. On the other side of things, if I am apologizing a lot it's not because of anyone making me feel bad about not being able to keep caught up with them. It's because I love these recaps, they bring me joy seeing all the wonderful things going on with our cast & crew and our wonderful fandom, and to not have the energy to do them is very hard on me.

So thank you for all your kind words, it means so much, and please know I miss you all so much when I can't focus on the recaps..

That being said, I did want to make sure I boosted this, because it's so very important.

I can't tell you how very proud I am of you all. Seriously. I've been so worried about our Trans sibs since the beginning of this year, and to know that so many of you have stepped up and gone above and beyond to create beautiful queer art, or to bid on that art, or share the craft fair in support of Trans kids, it not only keeps the flame of hope alive in me, but makes it burn so much brighter. You truly are the best crew out there, and I appreciate all you do for each other. We need each other right now so much and you are stepping up like the kind and shining examples of humanity you are. I'm so fucking proud of you. $54,800+ so far.

About Our Auction

OUR FAMILY, OUR FIGHT.

A fundraiser for the Campaign for Southern Equality, through handmade and personalized queer and fandom stuff! All donations should be made after the auction closes at the organization's website.

Some items are up for bidding, some for buying—all are amazing and made with love. Help us make a difference (and get some awesome stuff!)

To bid, you'll need to make a 32auctions account, and after the auction is over, we'll let you know everything you won!

If you haven't already, please go visit the OFMD Craft Fair that's still going on until March 1 at 11:45 PM EST. If you have no money right now don't worry, we understand, we're all in dire straights at the moment. If nothing else, go there to marvel at what everyone has accomplished! It's incredibly uplifting!

Thank you again to @ghostalservice and every other person who has contributed in any way. You have done such an amazing job.
