Rhys' Tour is in full swing in Aotearoa and he's been featured in lots of articles and participating in Podcast and Radio Shows all over!

But it's where he'll be kicking off his international standup tour The Legend Returns, in March 2025. It's a joyful return and a milesto...

One of the podcasts he was on recently was Wilosophy! You can listen below, but there's also some clips on IG! Our friends over at @adoptourcrew also put up some clips on their Bluesky as well!

A promotional graphic for the podcast 'WILOSOPHY'. On the left, the title 'WILOSOPHY: Rhys Darby - "Unapologetically, Be Yourself"' is written in white and yellow. Below it, it says 'Wilosophy Episode #3 19'. A short description follows: 'Rhys Darby (Flight of The Concorde, Yes Man, Hunt For The Wilderpeople) is bringing his new physical stand-up comedy show to Australia. Before he arrives, Wil finds out how Rhys' 'slow and steady' career approach has brought him success, how his time in the army shaped his discipline, and why Jim Carrey tried to make his son laugh. Rhys also reflects on his role as a New Zealand comedian on the world stage, and the hilarious countrymen he's loved to work alongside.' On the right, there is a photo of Wil Anderson in a suit, holding a colorful parrot. The background features the 'LISTNR WILOSOPHY' logo.

#105 The Robot Host Issue

March 18

Well well well, let's all give a warm virtual welcome to TCF's newest host! He's so switched on, it's almost like he's made for it.

Although, we have enough host action going on to keep us entertained with just our regular three: We have a time travelling child host coming back to cosplay as other hosts, a normal travelling host on a mission to coat tail another host, and a celebrity host and a not-so celebrity host meeting celebrity non-hosts, giving celeb-envy to another host...host hosty hosts!

In this flotilla of information you will sail past the first Loch Ness Monster sighting of 2025, adorable wooly mice created by a whole company of genetically engineered employees, national cheesy naan crazes, and World-Record breaking vegetables making some oddly familiar noises.

Our Flag Means Death was cut short after two seasons, and I felt similar frustrations here as I did when I read about the nine canceled Netflix shows in 2024 that you should still watch. A cancelation does not mean a show is bad quality, but sometimes seeing a show come to an abrupt end can put people off. Still, Our Flag Means Death has a very loyal fanbase that continues to fight its corner, and the two seasons that aired are well worth your time.
